

Teaching Hospital Ophthalmology Service

The Ophthalmology Service provides medical and surgical care for any species, however, dogs, cats and horses are seen most commonly. Besides routine detailed eye exams the Service offers a variety of diagnostic tests including applanation tonometry, gonioscopy, electroretinography and ultrasonography. We perform adnexal, ocular and orbital surgeries including cataract surgery with artificial lens implants and laser treatment for glaucoma and retinal detachment. Certification exams for breeding dogs and Rocky Mountain Horses are also performed.
